Johnston May Again Garner Consulting Engineer Work from City Government

City council action on selection of a consulting engineering firm to handle the planning and engineering for construction of a new Granite City secondary sewage treatment plant is expected in a regular session of the council at 8 o'clock tonight.

The possibility that the issue may be a highly controversial one was indicated in reports that recommendations will be made to retain a firm headed by David J. Johnston of East St. Louis, a former Granite City consulting engineer.

Johnston served as consulting engineer in Granite City in early 1960s.

A split between members of the council's Pollution Plant Committee, which interviewed representatives of at least six firms bidding for the engineering work on the project, was reported today, with the likelihood that a minority report will be filed by Charles Moerlein, retiring alderman of the Fifth Ward. The Pollution Plant Committee is made up of Alderman Steve Barschak as chairman, Alderman Claude Green and Alderman

Contract Being Cited

Selection of an engineering firm for construction of the secondary treatment plant and a system of interceptor sewers already is in dispute over the question of whether or not the city is legally bound to give the work to Research Planning & Design Associates of St. Louis.

That firm, through its president, Kenneth Kleberger, maintains that the city's contract for consulting work with Research Planning entitles Research Planning to the job.

Water Franchise Negotiated

The proposed treatment plant and interceptor sewers will cost an estimated $7.5 million and must be completed by Dec. 31, 1973 under an edict of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, which has stepped up requirements of water pollution controls in the Mississippi River.

The council also is scheduled to begin consideration of a proposed water franchise for the East St. Louis and Interurban Water Co. which has been worked out in a series of recent meetings by a committee headed by Alderman Gerald Farney.

The city has been without a franchise since 1947. A proposal for a franchise for the water company was defeated by the council in 1967.

The agreement now reached between the committee and the water company would provide savings of $100,000 to the city during the next five years.

It would give the city service and water supplies worth about $20,000 per year for the first five years, with subsequent service and water worth about $18,000 per year for the next 25 years.

The proposal, if accepted by the council, would be retroactive to Jan. 1 and would provide free water to the city hall, the city garage, library, civil defense headquarters and three fire stations.

Other provisions call for every fourth fire hydrant to be rent free, and for installation of a certain number of fire hydrants without cost to the city. The water company also would replace 10 old fire hydrants, a project that would cost the city $11,000.

provides for issuance of $800,000 in tax anticipation warrants. This would bring the district's outstanding debt to $1,389,551 at the end of the fiscal year Dec. 31. The figure does not include the district's substantial bond debt.

Total operating expenses budgeted for the current year amount of $1,279,775 in the general fund. In addition, the appropriation provides for expenditure of $100,000 for liability insurance, $35,000 for the municipal retirement fund, $14,000 for auditing and $140,000 for election expenses.

For Special Election

The appropriation for election expense was included in the bill because Governor Richard B. Ogilvie has called a special primary and runoff election to replace the four present trustees.

On the basis of board figures approved by the trustees, the district had a deficit of $250,628 in the general fund at the beginning of the current fiscal year Jan. 1.

Tax collections during the current year are projected at $34,069 in undistributed 1969 taxes, plus $1,046,452 in 1970 taxes due for collection this summer, or total tax income of $1,080,521.

The Jan. 1 deficit of $250,628 applied against the expected tax income leaves a balance of $329,923.

Of this amount, $800,000 must be used to redeem tax anticipation warrants sold during 1970, leaving the district only $329,923 remaining income during the 1971 year.

The district, however, plans failed, to make a hit. The lead tune in the album was "Maria Elena," destined to make them famous.

It happened by chance. In the summer of 1963, the producer of a morning comedy show on station Wnew in New York came upon their album and discovered "Maria Elena."

The tune was played frequently on the program and inquiries poured in. RCA reissued the track as a single record and it pushed Los Indios Tabajaras to stardom.

Suit Seeks $18,650 Return to Madison

A suit seeking to reclaim $18,650 for taxpayers was filed Thursday against the City of Madison by Gerald Moss, a Madison businessman, in Madison County Circuit Court.

The suit alleges that the city illegally paid fees to the Andrew Gitchoff Agency of Granite City as the agent for locating purchasers or lessees in the development of the Stephens Maers Industrial Park and for city property on the Missouri side of the old Chain of Rocks Bridge.

Moss, owner of the Ill-Pac Coast Transport Co., challenged the payments after the last one made in April, 1970, and after the City Council had appointed him and Leo Abel an employee of his firm, to investigate.

records Levee Budget Estimates Deficit Will Reach $1,389,000

By HARRY BARNES

Press-Record Staff Writer

A new record high budget of $1,408,775 adopted by the East Side Levee and Sanitary District board of trustees Friday projects an operating deficit of $589,851 in the general fund by the end of the district's current fiscal year, not counting existing debt.

The appropriation bill was approved by the trustees at a meeting immediately following a public hearing at 10 a.m. Friday in the levee district offices at East St. Louis.

In addition to the general fund deficit based on an anticipated general fund revenue of $829,923, the 1971 budget

River Festival Hinges On SIU Board Grant

The future of the Mississippi River Festival will depend again upon action of the Southern Illinois University board of trustees which meets in Carbondale Friday. The board will be asked to give the festival program financial aid for the 1971 summer season.

John S. Rendleman, chancellor of the Southwest campus of SIU who said he will ask the board "for more than $75,000," said also that he has no idea how the board will react to the request for funds to permit a third season for the Mississippi River Festival.

The request for funds to permit a third season for the Mississippi River Festival will be the principal issue to be given the board by southwestern campus officials, the spokesman said.

The trustees last year at first turned down a request for funds after the River Festival, while highly successful in its purpose, suffered a $150,000 loss in its 1969 season. The board later agreed to provide $75,000 for the second River Festival season provided that festival backers were able to raise a matching $75,000 from other sources.

The 1970 season ended with a profit of $6,401.

LOS INDIOS TABAJARAS. The Brazilian recording artists made their first best-seller, "Maria Elena," a decade ago and have since appeared on many telecasts and in many concert appearances. They will appear at SIU-SW Saturday night.

Concert Here Saturday by Brazil Duo Which Has Won World Acclaim

Thirty years ago Los Indios Tabajaras, who have achieved international fame and popularity, were two illiterate boys living in primeval ignorance in a remote area in Brazil.

Today they are assured, personable men, articulate in several languages. For more than 15 years they have been appearing in leading theaters at concert halls in Latin America, Asia, Europe and North America, as well as on top-rated radio and television shows in this country. Their record albums are best sellers.

Los Indios Tabajaras will appear at Southern Illinois University's local campus Saturday, Feb. 20, at 8 p.m. in Meridian Hall of the University Center. An Artist-Lecture Series attraction, the program is open to the public, admission free.

Children of Chief

The transition of Los Indios Tabajaras began when two boys were living in their native state of Ceara, two of 30 children of a Tabajaras chief, Mitanga.

Walking one day along a path in the forest, Mitanga, the third son, and Herundy, the next eldest, came upon a guitar, presumably abandoned by a white man. Totally ignorant of what it was, the boys took it home and hid it for several weeks.

Eventually they worked up the courage to touch it and were fascinated by its sounds. They subsequently learned to accompany themselves in singing their native songs.

Released in 1957 under the name "Sweet and Savage," it failed, to make a hit. The lead tune in the album was "Maria Elena," destined to make them famous.

It happened by chance. In the summer of 1963, the producer of a morning comedy show on station Wnew in New York came upon their album and discovered "Maria Elena."

Abel Files Suit Against Owners Of Mal Landfill

A suit seeking a judgment totaling $1,637,000 in actual damages plus $500,000 in punitive damages was filed Friday for Leo Abel, former partner and operator of the Mal Landfill, parked at the Rose Bowl. It was 10 weeks old with blond hair.

The defendants are listed as William W. Miller, Mayor John E. Lee of Venice, the city of Madison, the First National Bank in Madison and Mrs. Nigel Maeras, widow and administratrix of the estate of the late Mayor Stephen Maeras of Madison.

The complaint alleges that Mayor Lee was to acquire Abel's interests in the landfill with the payment of $10,000, which allegedly was never paid. It also claims that from 1967 until March 4, 1969, Mayor Maeras pressured Abel to incorporate the landfill and provide Maeras with 25% of the corporate stock in return for continuing to permit the city of Madison to place its refuse at the landfill. Abel claims that Mayor Maeras became a secret partner.

Abel alleges that the Madison bank and the other defendants used dispersed assets without proper authorization and to unauthorized recipients to the plaintiff's damage in the sum of $100,000.

Abel claims that he was coerced and removed from the business by Maeras to his damage in the extent of $327,000. The complaint asks that the court order an accounting of all profits and receipts by the defendants from the operation or sale of the landfill, and that the investment of any profits be distributed equitably to Abel.

The suit was filed for Abel by the law firm of Durr & Durr of Edwardsville.

Referral Plan For Services To Children
Several Quad-Cityans are working to develop a central referral office. The non-profit organization, tentatively known as National Referral Services for Children, plans to provide service to the Granite City, Alton, Edwardsville and East St. Louis areas, centralizing information for referral of all children in need of medical and financial aid to the correct source of help for individual problems.

The organization is willing to assist all charitable organizations in referring their applications to the correct agency, it was announced. The founding group includes Mrs. Barbara Blackburn and Leo Lipe of Granite City.

Main function of the referral office will be to eliminate "red tape" for all concerned, it was noted. Organizational fees will be used for administrative costs only.

"Each organization submitting applicants would get complete credit for all data received through the referral system," Mrs. Blackburn said. "Since this service is just in the planning stages, we have no idea as yet to the cost. But we would like to know if the concerned areas and individual families are interested in this type of office and would help in supporting it."

"We have at our disposal now several services available, including ears, eyes, nose, throat, burns, leukemia and crippling children's diseases. Eventually, we anticipate an extension of our services to everyone, regardless of age. But in order to begin somewhere, we will commence with a children's program."

"Interested organizations or individuals who have questions concerning the system and those who wish to support the central office may write to Post Office Box 1077, Nameoki Station, Granite City.

Pfc. E. A. Karandjeff In Army Drill

Army Pfc. Ernest A. Karandjeff Jr., whose parents live at 2607 Cleveland Blvd., participated with his unit, the 9th Artillery's 3rd Battalion, in a mid-winter North Atlantic Treaty Organization tactical evaluation test in Grafenwohr, Germany.

During the test, the men of the battalion were tested in their respective jobs in order to keep them in a state of constant readiness. A member of the Artillery's Battery A, Karandjeff entered the Army in July 1970, completed basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., and was last stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla.

The 23-year-old soldier received his bachelor of science degree from Illinois Wesleyan University, Bloomington, in 1969. He is a member of the Sigma Chi fraternity.

Miss Zimmer Directing Dinner-Play This Week

For an extra 50 cents, those dining in the University Club at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern Thursday and Friday, will be able to see a production of Peter Shaffer's "The Public Eye."

Ann Zimmer of Granite City, a member of the directing practicum at SIU-SW, will direct the three-character play.

Dinner will be available from the regular menu between the hours of 5 and 7 p.m. Curtain time is 7:30 p.m.

Members of the cast include Douglas George, Belleville, as the private eye, Ricki Kluth, Edwardsville, as the woman whose husband has hired a detective to spy on her; and Dale Swann, Wood River, the jealous husband.

Miss Zimmer, a graduate of St. Theresa's Academy in East St. Louis, planned to major in art when she entered SIU-SW in the summer of 1967. "I didn't know what a bad 'artist' I was until I went to college," she says. "In high school I had done extra curricular work in speech. When I saw what a fantastic program SIU-SW had in theater, my interest in it grew. Because of my background in art, I started out wanting to be a scenic designer.

"From related courses in lighting, acting, costumeing and make-up, I became interested in directing," Miss Zimmer explained. "It occurred to me that I could put everything I had learned to work for me by directing a production. Putting on this play is like a crowning event."

Last summer Miss Zimmer went to Europe with 14 other students. There she had an opportunity to visit theaters in France, Italy, Greece and England.

"I even auditioned at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts in London," she says. "It was quite an experience, even if I wasn't accepted."

Miss Zimmer's plans call for graduate work in technical theater. "I want to stay in university or college theater," she says, "rather than the professional field."

Legion and Auxiliary Keep 'Flags Flying'

A new all-weather flag, plainly visible by day and night—the latter with the aid of a large flood light—is now positioned on top of the American Legion Post 113 Building, at 24th Street and Madison Avenue.

The silk flag was presented last week by the American Legion Auxiliary, Tri-City Unit 113, to the Legion Post. Making the presentation in behalf of the Auxiliary unit was Mrs. Jeanie Tapp, Americanism chairman, who urged all Post 113 and Auxiliary members to display their flags on appropriate observance days.

Within the past few weeks, Mrs. Tapp and Mrs. Rose Halbert, Unit 113 president, have presented flags to Cub Scout Pack 8 of the First United Presbyterian Church, Brownie Troop 331, sponsored by Logan School PTA, and St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, Pontoon and Johnson roads.

Girl Scout and Boy Scout troops in the Granite City area without a U.S. Flag are invited to contact Mrs. Tapp or Mrs. Halbert at the American Legion Home, 876-2902, to receive a gift flag, the auxiliary spokesman said.

In Hospital

Roy J. Hill Jr., desk clerk of the Madison Police Department, was admitted to the intensive care unit of St. Elizabeth Hospital after his heart stopped beating momentarily about 1 a.m. Friday at home. Hill is an elder at the First Presbyterian Church in Madison and is director of the church choir.

Proposed Postal Increases Expected to Raise 1972 Fiscal Income $1.45 Billion

Postmasters of the Quad-City area said today proposed new postal rate increases will place the nation's postal system on a sound financial basis and shift more of the costs from taxpayers generally to those who use the mails the most.

They explained that recent Postal Service proposals submitted this month to the Postal Rate Commission would yield additional revenues of $1.45 billion during fiscal 1972, starting July 1.

The proposals call for increases in virtually all mail categories except parcel post. If the Rate Commission does not present to the Governors of the Postal Service a recommended decision on rate changes within 90 days, it is anticipated that a temporary rate increase will be put into effect by the Postal Service, the postmasters said.

They pointed out that higher rates had been sought by the Post Office Department under both the current and previous administrations, but no action was taken.

8 Cents for Letters

In addition to the long-standing Postal Service proposal for a 2-cent boost for letters from 6 to 8 cents, advertising mail (regular bulk rate third-class) would be increased to a minimum of 5 cents per piece, plus additional increases for heavier weights.

Substantial increases also are proposed for magazines, newspapers and other categories of second-class mail. These rather sharp increases will be phased in over five years to soften the impact on the mailers.

Other highlights of the proposal: Airmail rates would go up a penny, from 10 to 11 cents, and airmail cards, from 8 to 9 cents each.

If temporary rates are placed into effect, post cards will go from 5 to 6 cents although the proposal provides for a full increase to 7 cents each.

Concerning "Priority Mail"—packages weighing more than 12 ounces and receiving first-class treatment—higher rates are proposed only for parcels weighing less than 5 pounds. For a 5-pound priority mail package sent across the U. S., the rates would remain $4.08, under the proposal. However, for a 1-pound package, an increase of from 80 cents to $1 is proposed.

Second Class Increase

Regular second-class publications—those mailed for delivery outside the publisher's county, excluding certain categories—will be raised 1.9 cents per piece plus higher advertising rates ranging from 9.1 to 20.9 cents per pound. Non-advertising will be at a new rate of 7.2 cents per pound.

Controlled circulation publications—usually periodicals without subscription fees mailed to specific audiences or markets—face an increase in only their minimum per piece rate to 5 cents from the existing 3.8 cents postage fee. The pound rate remains the same.

In third-class, the rates for single pieces—often a circular or small parcel—would rise to 8 cents for the first 2 ounces and the fee for each additional ounce would be raised from 2 to 4 cents under the permanent proposal.

Mailers holding bulk third-class permits would find their rates per pound raised from 16 and 22, to 22 and 28 cents per pound, respectively, when the proposal is fully effected, and the minimum-per-piece charge would be raised to 5 cents.

Special delivery and registered mail fees would both be increased. The minimum fee for a special delivery letter would rise from 45 to 60 cents, while the rate for registered mail valued up to $100 would be increased from 80 to 95 cents under the proposal. There would be proportionate hikes in the fees for shipments registered at higher values.

When the proposed domestic changes go into effect, similar increases in letter mail rates to Canada and Mexico are planned.

Expected Yield

The total yield under the proposal, when fully effective, is estimated at $2,125.8 million, including all of the rates to be cents postage fee. The pound rate remains the same.

In the first year $670 million of the $2,125.8 million would be provided from appropriations by Congress under the Postal Reorganization Act.

About 80 per cent of the nation's mail volume of nearly 90 billion pieces in fiscal year 1972 will be business-type mail, and the bulk of the increase would be borne by these users.

Annexation, Rezoning Plea Tabled for Study

The City Plan Commission, at its monthly meeting Thursday afternoon in City Hall, deferred action on a petition by Dale Construction Co., asking that the city annex a 31-acre tract of land and rezone it to single-family residential property for construction of homes.

The tract is located along Maryville Road in an area denuded at the abandoned Illinois Terminal Railroad tracks. E. G. Schmitt, acting chairman of the commission, said the petition was tabled pending platting of the area and the filing of additional information on drainage and sewer plans.

In other business a petition for rezoning property at 1205 St. Paul Ave., from single family residential R-2 zoning to R-3 residential zoning was denied by the commission because such spot zoning would defeat the purpose of the city's zoning plan, Schmitt said. These objections were present to protest the plan.

A special use permit extension was granted to Darrell Crews for a dental office at 2965 Madison Ave. The extension is for six months.

All action taken at the meeting will be referred to the City Council which may uphold or overrule the commission's decisions.

Crossing Guard For Maryville School Is Hired

A crossing guard for Maryville School has been hired and is expected to start work this week. Jack Mulach, school principal announced today.

The new guard is Virgil Carr, 65, of 2223 Miracle Ave. He is expected to begin his duties Wednesday morning.

Carr was deputized Friday by Sheriff John Maer and was assigned to the crossing through the Maer's Agency.

"We are still looking for two assistant guards, and we hope to hire them and get them working this week also," Mulach said.

The need for a crossing guard at the school was shown Jan. 19 when two girl students were struck by an auto while crossing Maryville Road in front of the school. Nancy Lively, 7, was killed in that mishap and Linda Hall, 9, was seriously injured.

Linda Hall has not regained consciousness but doctors at Cardinal Glennon Memorial Hospital, St. Louis, say she is beginning to respond. Last week a tape recording of her classmates singing for her was played in her room and she smiled broadly, Mulach said.

Debate over the financing of a crossing light at the school have been continuing since the year by the Knight car, police said.

Russell Gunow, 49, of Holiday Motel Home Park, was injured when his auto was struck by a train at 11:10 p.m. Sunday in a highway accident. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital with pains in the head and spine. X-rays were taken.

Mrs. Cathy Ward, 23, of 2254 Washington Ave., was injured in a highway traffic accident at 2 a.m. Friday and was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for a cervical whiplash. She had struck her head on the windshield and later suffered headache and chills, with pains in the neck. She was released following X-rays.

James McQuary, 38, was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was treated for a contusion and laceration to his head and abrasions to his nose and right eyebrow. He was released after X-rays of his skull, ribs and chest were taken. The truck was demolished, police said.

Three persons were injured when the southbound auto of Joyce A. Rankin, 38, of 2743 Michigan Ave., collided with the westbound auto of Gary D. Starnes, 18, of 2806 W. 22nd St., at 4 p.m. Saturday in the intersection of Second Street and Delmar Avenue.

Alfred Walcher Rites; Steel Executive Was 91

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at a St. Louis mortuary for Alfred Walcher, 91, a former director and vice-president of Amsted Industries, parent company of American Steel Foundries. Burial was at Oak Grove Cemetery. He died in St. Louis.

A recognized leader in the nation's steel foundry industries, he had retired from the company's board of directors in 1953 after 51 years of service. He had been living in Clayton.

Mr. Walcher joined American Steel Foundries in its founding year, 1902, and was foreman in the pattern shop in its East St. Louis steel foundry. In 1907 he became works manager of the company's Granite City plant.

In 1916 he moved to the Chicago area to become manager of American Steel Foundries' Indiana harbor shell forging operation. He was appointed assistant vice-president in 1919 and in 1929 was elected vice-president of operations for all American Steel Foundries.

Mr. Walcher also served as a company director for 13 years, from 1940 to 1953.

He was an active supporter of the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children in Chicago. He is survived by three brothers, Oliver and Roy of St. Louis, and Edwin Walcher Sr., Bloomington, Ind.; a niece, Mrs. Keith Calowick, also of Bloomington; and a nephew, Edwin Walcher Jr., Chicago, currently a director and corporate vice-president of Amsted Industries.

Bahamas Sharks, Rays Studied by Geo. Holtzsch, Former Resident

George Holtzsch, a former Granite Cityan, left yesterday to spend a week at the Lerner Research Laboratory, located at Bimini in the Bahamas. He will collaborate there with Dr. Irving Aronberg on a deafness research project; they will investigate the vestibular systems of sharks and rays. Holtzsch will be in charge of underwater photography of free-swimming sharks, taking electrostagnographic recordings. There are recordings of eye movement under controlled stimuli.

The stimuli in this case are surgical procedures to sever nerve endings in the brain area controlling varying aspects of the balance mechanism. The photography work will be on the sharks both before and after surgery. Holtzsch has been on the Washington University medical faculty for seven years. He is a research audiologist no the otoneurology staff. He resides at 412 Merrill, Collinsville, with his wife, the former Judith McDonnell, and their two sons, Tommy and Eric. He graduated from Granite City High School in 1954. He attended SIU, Carbondale, where he obtained his bachelor's degree in speech pathology and voice. As a hobby, he continues to pursue the music he started in high school. He played baritone horn in the GCHS band and entered several competitions. At college, he played French horn, sang in and directed his fraternity chorus, and worked as news and sports director for a radio station in the Carbondale area. Since moving to Collinsville, he has continued his musical activities, directing the First Presbyterian Church choir. He also directs the Mississippi Valley Chorus, Collinsville Chapter, of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, and sings baritone in a barbershop quartet, the "Arch Rivals." His wife also participates in musical activities. She sings in the church choir, sings lead voice in the Collinsville chapter of Sweet Adelines, and is the "tenor" of the Sweet Adelines quartet, the "Four-De-Matics."

The annual fire report also was issued. It shows a total of 156 fire calls answered in 1970, including 37 dwelling fires, 38 grass and rubbish fires, 21 commercial establishment fires and 19 auto and truck fires. Alarms also included 21 out-of-town calls, six false alarms, four rescues, four school assistance calls, five shed and garage fires and one bridge call. The total fire loss during the year was $28,585 or $52.29 per person. The average number of men answering each call was 14.8, according to the report.

Bro. Theodore Billed For SIU-SW on Friday

Brother Theodore, billed as a philosopher, meta-physician and "sick" humorist, will be on Southern Illinois University's Southwestern campus on Friday.

Under the auspices of the Artist-Lecture Series, he will speak at 8 p.m. in the Madison Room of the University Center. He will discuss "the degrading after-effects of living" and will perform a black mass for all colors, according to a spokesman for the series. Admission is free.

Theodore, who spent time in a concentration camp, has been described by one newspaper as "a monster, a saintly quack . . . held his audience spellbound." Another called him "whimsical, macabre, diabolical . . . a genius of the sinister." Tagged "one of the most acrid satirists in his profession" by another, Brother Theodore has appeared on the television shows of Johnny Carson, Dick Cavett, Merv Griffin and Joey Bishop.

Warrior Wrestlers Win District Tourney, Nine Qualify for Sectional

Granite City High School's wrestling team won its 14th straight district tournament crown Friday and Saturday at the local gym by qualifying nine men to sectional competition next weekend at Wood River, more than any of the 15 schools entered in the meet.

Granite City finished the two-day event with 106 team points, 21 points ahead of East St. Louis Lincoln with 85, and 50 points ahead of third place Wood River with 56.

Other schools and their scores were: Roxana 44, Alton 42, Bethalto Civic Memorial 30, East St. Louis 29, Mount Olive 26, Vandalia 18, Edwardsville 14, Highland 11, Hillsboro 5, Collinsville 4, Staunton 4, and Litchfield 2.

Granite City had four champions, as did Lincoln, and Wood River trailed with two. East St. Louis and Alton each had one champion.

Champions for the Warriors were Bruce Miller (105), Mike Garland (119), Rich Sazak (145) and Tom Kalert (185).

Miller earned his berth in the sectional competition by defeating his Mount Olive opponent 8-2 in the semi-finals and slipping over Lincoln with a 4-4 overtime referee's decision in the final round.

Garland pinned Highland in 1:59 and also used an overtime referee's decision to defeat Lincoln in the finals.

Sazak utilized the overtime rule in defeating his Wood River opponent 8-6 in the first round Saturday and then went on to win easily over his Roxana opponent 6-0.

Kalert blanked his Vandalia and Alton opponents Saturday, 15-0 and 2-0, to earn his place in the sectional competition.

Taking second place in the tournament, but qualifying for the sectional, were Doug Wilson (126), Tom Eaton (132), Charlie Wickham (138), Rick Wickham (155) and Mike Wilson (167).

Doug Wilson defeated Staunton 6-4 in the semi-final match but fell to Wood River by one point, 8-7, in the title bout.

Eaton blanked Vandalia 4-0, then lost 3-2 to Lincoln in the final match.

Mayfield defeated Wood River 4-3 to earn a place in the championship round, but failed to take the crown in that round as Alton won an overtime 3-2 victory.

Wickham defeated Wood River 5-2 in semi-final action and lost 9-4 to East St. Louis as they earned their only championship of the tourney.

Mike Wilson won an overtime 6-3 victory over Alton to qualify for the finals but fell 5-0 to Lincoln in the round.

The Warriors were also credited with one third place as Gary Loy (98) lost 5-2 to East St. Louis in the semi-finals and defeated Alton 6-2 in the consolation round.

Since all of Granite City's wrestlers were top seeded in the first round Friday, all drew byes and wrestled only once that evening to two rounds for all other schools.

Despite the bandicoot, at the end of Friday's competition Granite City had taken the lead in the point standings, a lead that never wavered throughout the two days.

At the end of Friday night's rounds, the Warriors had lost only two men, heavyweight Craig Stevens, the substitute for injured Mark Mizerski, and 12-pound Harry Miller who had just returned to the roster after suffering an eye injury Jan. 22.

Stevens lost 12-0 and Miller lost 4-2 by a reversal in the last 12 seconds of the match to Doug Allison of Roxana in what was to have been a revenge victory from the holiday tournament.

Winners by pins and three times Friday were Gary Loy (88) 1-49, Mike Garland (119) 2-25, Doug Wilson (126) 5-37, Tom Eaton (132) 4-08, Rich Sazak (145) 1-30, and Tom Kalert (185) 1-14 and Don Kalert (185) 1-19.

Decision winners Friday were Bruce Miller (105) 6-0, Charlie Mayfield (138) 6-1 and Mike Wilson (167) 4-2.

It wasn't all bad news for SIU-SW in the defeats at Davenport and Quincy. Coach Dudley got outstanding performances from his slender 6-8 center Gene Bonds and saw that his 6-8 freshman product, Steve Hutchison, could perform under fire.

Hutchison, a Hillsboro native, made his varsity debut in the first half of the St. Ambrose contest and scored 10 points and four at Quincy after playing the whole game in the prelim.

Bonds pored in 19 against Quincy, topped only by John "Champ" Summers' 20. In the St. Ambrose setback he took scoring honors with 18.

High for St. Ambrose was 6-8 John Bravine with 36, while former Collinsville prepster, Paul Jackstadt, was high for Quincy with 28 points.

In the Cougars' three remaining games they will get a chance to avenge their loss to the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee, McKendree and Kenosha both lost to the Cougars in their first meeting, but both are vastly improved and won't be easy.

Coach Dudley, on the dreary long bus ride home from Davenport and Quincy, was in no mood to talk but gave his charges a day off. There will be no practice today.

SURPRISE AWARD presented last week to Mrs. Valerie Evenden, women's editor of the Press-Record, for service to the Boosters of the Fighting Warriors. Tony Melchior, Boosters president, is at right and Bob Patrick, Boosters vice-president, is at center. The gift of a dozen roses was presented before an audience of 2,600 at a benefit basketball game last week at Granite City High School.

Cougars on Downgrade, Warrior Cagers Drop 2 Games Set Sights on Alton

Southern Illinois University-Southwestern's basketball schedule, which have had the charges of Coach Jim Dudley on the road for their past five games, took a turn for the better this upcoming week.

SIU-SW doesn't have a game slated this week and will finish up the 1970-71 season next week, starting with McKendree College on Wednesday, the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee, the following evening, and closing out against the University of Kenosha, on Saturday. They are home games.

The respite came none too soon for the battered Cougars who dropped two on the road over the past weekend, losing 90-84 to the St. Ambrose College Bees Friday night at Davenport, Iowa, and 98-89 to the Quincy College Hawks Saturday.

These two losses, plus three other road-trip defeats to North Missouri State, the University of Missouri, St. Louis, and Concordia Seminary, St. Louis, sank the Dudley Dandies drop to a 13-10 record.

In both defeats over the immediate past weekend, the Cougars came up with last minute rallies which failed to bring off victory.

National Rifle Association to Mark 100th Anniversary

The year 1971 will be a milestone for the world's largest sportsmen's association. It will mark the 100th birthday of the National Rifle Association, which was founded in 1871 by a group of National Guardsmen to foster marksmanship among the citizenry.

In the century since its birth the organization has grown spectacularly. More than one million Americans, who believe in the constitutional rights of citizens to keep and use firearms for legitimate purposes, are on the rolls of the NRA.

In their century have been outstanding countrymen like Presidents U. S. Grant and Dwight D. Eisenhower. Citizens from all walks of life—doctors, lawyers, legislators, governors, military men, clerks, businessmen—make up the membership of the Association.

NRA Goals Its goals are essentially the same today as they were at its founding. It is an independent, non-profit organization supported by its members.

Its purposes are to educate public-spirited citizens; in the safe and efficient use of small arms for pleasure and protection; to foster firearms accuracy and safety in law enforcement agencies; and among citizens subject to military duty; and to further the public welfare and national defense.

The NRA takes the bedrock stand that law-abiding Americans are constitutionally entitled to the ownership and legal use of firearms.

Marksmanship Training In its embryonic days the NRA initiated civilian marksmanship training and young shooters' training. It was active in the establishment of the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice, which came into being in 1902, and since that year in the operation of the National Rifle and Pistol matches.

The organization originated the nationwide hunter safety training program and home fire-arms safety courses. It is also the certifying agency for instructors in marksmanship and firearms safety, training counselors and tournament referees.

NRA officials and members work closely with government, civic and fraternal organizations in the promotion of firearms safety. NRA officers and staff members have worked for years with congressional committees and subcommittees in formulating appropriate firearms legislation.

The influence of the National Rifle Association is not restricted to the United States. As the governing body of U. S. competitive rifle and pistol shooting, the NRA is the agency responsible for selecting and training U. S. target shooting teams which compete in the Olympics, world shooting championships, Pan American Games and the world moving target championships.

It is a member of the International Shooting Union, a worldwide federation of sports shooting organizations, which governs competitive marksmanship around the world.

In 1970 the NRA hosted the 40th world shooting championships on behalf of the U. S. at Phoenix, Ariz. It was the third time since the inauguration of this major target shooting competition between nations that the matches had been held in this country. The event drew nearly 70 competitors from 50 nations, competing in 54 individual and team matches.

Many special events will be held by the NRA and its affiliated clubs and organizations in honor of the centennial during the year.

MORE ABOUT Soldier

duty in Vietnam on Nov. 16 and has been stationed until recently in the vicinity of Long Binh, northwest of Saigon, with Company D, 2nd Battalion, 12th Infantry, 25th Infantry Division.

On Patrol Missions In his letters home, he has mentioned taking part in reconnaissance patrol missions and not long ago was reassigned to another company in the same Infantry unit. He was expected to return home on an R & R furlough next month.

The telegram received by Mrs. Labarey yesterday states: "The Secretary of the Army wishes to inform you that your husband, Sgt. Ronald E. Labarey Sr., was wounded in action in Vietnam on Feb. 13 by fragments of a mortar while on a combat operation, when a booby trap detonated."

"He received wounds to the body resulting in loss of both eyes, traumatic amputation of his right arm, a compound fracture of his left arm and a fractured tibia (lower leg bone)."

A tracheotomy has been performed. The attending physician reports no brain damage. He is in critical condition, but the attending physician there is cause for concern but no imminent danger to his life.

"Be assured that the best medical facilities and doctors have been made available and every measure is being taken to aid him. He is hospitalized in Vietnam."

The message, hand-printed on a Western Union telegram form, was delivered to the Labarey home by a taxi driver yesterday. The wife was relayed here through the Mount Vernon office.

Separate Bond Tax A separate tax levy is extended by the county clerk's office to pay the bond obligations. Such a tax rate is authorized by past bond issues without new bond and interest levies by the board.

A breakdown of budget figures shows that of the general fund expenditures estimated at $1,419,775, a total of $860,400 is earmarked for salaries, maintenance and contract labor, $289,915 in administration costs, $56,550 in engineering costs, $373,450 for general maintenance and $71,000 for the police department.

The levee board will meet later this month in a special meeting to adopt the 1971 tax levy.

The 1971 appropriation measure is published elsewhere in today's issue of the Press-Record.

Football Cardinal Star Speaker at Awards Dinner

Sure-handed David L. Williams, wide receiver for the St. Louis Football Cardinals, will be the principal speaker at the Granite City Jaycees tenth annual Distinguished Service Award and Outstanding Young Education Awards Banquet, Thursday evening at the Rose Bowl restaurant.

The event will be open to the public for the second time in the program's history. Tickets costing $5 a person are available at eight locations in the Quad-Cities and from members of the Jaycee organization.

The special dinner and awards program is held each year in conjunction with "Jaycee Week," when members of the young men's service club honor an outstanding young man in the community and also a young educator who works or resides within the chapter's jurisdiction.

Winners of the two awards—the Distinguished Service Award and the Outstanding Young Educator Award—are announced during the banquet program.

The highest honor conferred by the Jaycees, the DSA winner is judged on his notable contributions in civic leadership and service in the community. The recipient must be between the ages of 21 and 35 years, but is not required to be a Jaycee member.

Spectacular Catches
An exciting, high-jumping, sure-handed receiver, "Davy" Williams has become a great crowd pleaser with his spectacular catches. In 1969 he led the Big Red in receiving, gaining 702 yards with 56 receptions, and scoring seven touchdowns.

A first round choice of the St. Louis Cardinals, Williams played spots in his initial season when he earned a Rookie-of-the-Year honor. He is credited with having great speed and fine moves.

As a junior at the University of Utah, the wide receiver notched All-American honors, topping his biggest season with 10 catches for three scores and 258 yards against UCLA.

Not only a football star in college, Williams earned three letters and has run hurdles in 13.9; the 220 in 21.2 and 440 in 46.9.

Williams completed his fourth season with the Big Red last year with a career total of 150 receptions, for 2,153 yards and 21 touchdowns.

He and his wife, Susie, and their two children reside in St. Louis.

Tickets for the Jaycees' annual dinner are available at the following locations:

nual dinner at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, are available at Graham's Book Store; Belleme Barber Shop; Belleme Shopping Center; Trattler's Men's and Boy's Store, downtown and Nameoki Village Shopping Center; Madison Police Department; Granite Sheet Metal Works, 2500 Missouri Ave., and the Rose Bowl restaurant.

'Just Practice,' Coach Says Of Victory Over Bunker Hill

The Venice Red Devils' victory over Bunker Hill here Friday night was, "just practice," according to Coach Bill Ohlen-dorf as the Minutemen left 92-67.

The Red Devils took a 22-16 lead in the first quarter and at halftime increased it to 46-32.

In the third quarter Venice scored 27 points to go ahead 73-16. Bunker Hill led the scoring in the final quarter, 22-18.

High scorer for Venice was Cedric Gardner who accumulated 41 points. He was backed up by Doug Johnson with 18 and Jim Ohlen-dorf with 10.

Other scorers were Dan Savers with nine, Algie Smith and Raymond Mosby with six each and Ron Taylor with two.

Venice dominated the baskets, board and the court despite a weak defense. "Our press wasn't as effective as it should have been and we gave them their baskets," the coach said.

"We just didn't play well," he commented.

Coordinated Youth Service Expanding Counseling with Professional Aid

By VALERIE EVENDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer

Communication and awareness are key factors in the successful program carried out in the Quad-Cities by the Coordinated Youth Service (CYS), an agency of the United Fund, whose sole purpose is to provide assistance to troubled youth.

In recent months, the extent of services available to area youth through the CYS program has been expanded to include additional qualified personnel on the counseling staff at the CYS office, 1225 Niedringhaus Ave.

Drawn from area universities, the youth counseling assistants are working here under the capable direction of Dr. Virginia R. Moore, Practicum (Counseling) director and coordinator of the College Student Personnel Program at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

Dr. Moore, an assistant professor in SIU-SW Counseling Education Department, is a former assistant dean of students at both the Carbondale and Southwestern campuses of SIU.

The educator coordinates the comprehensive guidance program which avails to local youth the expertise of counseling specialists from the campuses of SIU-SW, SIU-Carbondale and St. Louis University.

Willing to Listen

Communication and the ability to show that someone cares and is willing to listen are priceless assets when dealing with youngsters who, as surely as their adult counterparts, sincerely believe their problems are unique and without parallel, Dr. Moore related.

Counseling specialists involved in the practicum series at the CYS office not only work closely with juveniles referred for counseling but with parents, the coordinator advised.

Many problems involving juveniles stem from a poor parent-child relationship, Dr. Moore noted. This breakdown in family affinity frequently develops from "the parents' failure and inability to say 'no' to their kids," the educator pointed out.

Perhaps the most prevalent cause of basic juvenile delinquency, ranging from habitual truancy to more serious offenses against society, results from the lack of a real parent-child relationship, Dr. Moore commented.

"Don't Understand"

The most common complaint by parents interviewed at the CYS office is "I can't seem to get through to them," and from the young people—"They just don't understand." "They just don't understand," the counseling director stressed.

Among several judicial and youth services leaders in this area, whose recommendations for a counseling program are now being implemented by Coordinated Youth Services, was contained in a proposal voiced by Judge Joseph Kelleher.

The judge who has had much experience in hearing cases involving young law offenders noted the usual procedure of fining, judging or sentencing these offenders was not really solving the problem, C. A. "Bud" MacMillan, CYS executive director, explained.

Judge Kelleher felt a different approach in reaching and helping the young people was needed. Working in conjunction with local juvenile officers, the court official now evaluates all circumstances surrounding each case which involves a juvenile offender and makes a decision on how the offender should be handled.

Refers for Counseling

If he feels the youth can be helped by a counseling situation, the juvenile is referred to Coordinated Youth Services. The counseling program is flexible and subject to change if the need arises, MacMillan said. Communication and feedback are highly essential in the team work required to present a complete assessment on each case and to decide whether or not continued counseling sessions will prove beneficial, it was learned.

Recommendations to judicial authorities concerning future disposition of juvenile offenders, referred by the court for counseling, are determined by Dr. Moore.

Her recommendation invariably specifies whether continued counseling is advisable as opposed to confinement or other forms of punishment.

Decisions are based on consultations between staff members—those familiar with the individual case—supplemented with personal interviews with the juvenile in question, conducted by the practicum director, the CYS officer explained.

Extensive Background

Dr. Moore brings an extensive background in educational psychology and counseling to the prevention and control of juvenile delinquency program now in full force in the Quad-Cities, MacMillan said.

"She also gives tremendous personal effect to this program and to related problem areas handled by our local CYS office," the agency official added.

The practicum director received her bachelor and master of science degrees in Education from Central Missouri State College, at Warrensburg, Mo., and her doctorate degree in Education from the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana.

Dr. Moore is a former high school teacher at Houstonia, Mo.; Bridgeport, Neb., and a teacher-counselor in the Holden,

Vadalabene Urges Re-Evaluation of State Pay Plan

State Senator Sam M. Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) on Thursday introduced a joint resolution calling upon the State Director of Personnel to provide further and more adequate compensation for state employees after they reach steps five and above on the state pay plan.

At the present time, four out of five state employees at step five do not receive yearly performance increases based on satisfactory work. "These employees are forced to take a cut in pay for every day they work in inflationary times," Vadalabene said. At a time when the cost of living is rising, these employees find their paychecks remaining static.

In order to step five employees to advance on the pay scale, they must receive a "Superior Performance Increase." Only 20 per cent of an agency's employees roster is eligible in a fiscal year.

Vadalabene proposed that the automatic satisfactory performance increase be granted yearly to all employees on the seven-step pay plan. In addition, he proposed that superior performance increases be granted to deserving employees.

The present pay scale seriously affects an employee's retirement benefits as well," Vadalabene said. The benefits are based on the total of the employee's earnings in his last five years.

Vadalabene urged his fellow Senators to join him in supporting a re-evaluation of the provisions of the state pay plan.

Early Hearings Set on Bill to Spur Employment

Congressman Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) has announced plans to begin hearings on the Randolph-McFall Accelerated Public Works Bill H.R. 100 designed to create employment in communities suffering inordinately high rates of unemployment.

A pump-priming proposal, first introduced in the House by Congressman John J. McFall (D-Calif.) and co-sponsored by Congressman Price, the proposal was given momentum in the Senate last week when introduced by Senator Jennings Randolph (D-W. Va.) Chairman, Senate Public Works Committee. Approximately 25 members of the Senate already have joined with Randolph in co-sponsoring the proposal.

Senator Randolph said that early hearings on the bill will be held in Washington and in several states. Senator Joseph Montoya (D-N.Mex.) Chairman, Subcommittee on Economic Development, will conduct hearings on the Accelerated Public Works proposal while also holding hearings on other economic legislative proposals. Out-of-town hearings are scheduled for Feb. 18-20, Raleigh, N.C.; March 5-6, Memphis, Tenn.; April 1-3, Los Angeles, Calif.; April 5-6, Albuquerque and Santa Fe, New Mexico; April 14-15, Seattle, Wash.; and April 16-18, Anchorage and Fairbanks, Alaska.

Congressman Price urged labor unions, city and county officials and contractor organizations to consider sending a representative to testify at out-of-town hearings or the ones scheduled in Washington. Arrangements can be made by writing to Senator Jennings Randolph, Chairman, Senate Public Works Committee, New Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515.

Price signaled Randolph's actions in scheduling hearings so early in the 92nd Congress as a major step in bringing the measure up for prompt consideration by the full Congress. Price, concerned with the nation's high unemployment rate, said that approximately 5.5 million unemployed in the nation's labor market cannot wait for new programs or new economic concepts.

To offer quick relief, he said the accelerated public works program is a test-proven method of offering immediate help and called on newly-elected House Public Works Chairman, John Blatnik, to schedule early hearings in the House of Representatives. The Congressman emphasized the need for a "crash program" to offer hard-hit communities assistance now to cope with the growing unemployment problems.

Congressman Price joined with Randolph and McFall in stating, "We want to develop a new program of action to reach the goal of 4 percent unemployment by the end of the 1970's."

The Randolph-McFall bill, which calls for 80% Federal grants-in-aid, is tailored to assist communities that: (a) have a firm plan for a badly needed permanent public facility, (b) are able to finance the local share of construction, (c) are ready to begin almost immediate construction, and (d) can guarantee that high percentage of the construction cost will be labor. The goal is to make local areas more attractive to industry by building such facilities as sewer plants and municipal buildings without over-burdening the local tax rate. The bill is designed to assist economic development areas, major labor market areas and "pockets of poverty" that have a history of persistent unemployment reaching the level of 8.75% or higher. Similar legislation proved highly successful in the early 60's.

Volunteering to assist Mrs. Ramsey with details of the bake sale were Mrs. Mary Lou Richardson and Mrs. Rakowski.

Mrs. Ramsey also reported that it will be possible for the club to operate a booth in the Charity Days sidewalk sale at the Nameoki Village Shopping Center in August. It was decided that the club will offer a wide selection of hand-made boutique items for sale.

A St. Patrick's Day pot luck dinner will be sponsored by the club for the Arlington Heights area on Saturday, March 20. Entertainment will be arranged by Mrs. Singleton and Mrs. Roberta Arbelter.

Mrs. Brantley will head the decorating committee, assisted by Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Charlene Miller and Mrs. June Toorigan.

It was decided that a club directory, listing members, hostesses and a calendar of events for 1971, will be prepared. Assisting in the preparation are Mrs. Arbelter, Mrs. Hester, Mrs. Lois Bradford, Mrs. Francisca Radwin, Mrs. Mercer, Mrs. Lil Grisham and Mrs. Singleton.

The committee will decide upon a tentative calendar of events and will present it for approval at the next meeting.

State Government Urged To Open Lobbying Office in Washington

By PETE BROWN
Southern Illinois University News Service

A privately-financed organization of citizens has urged the nation's 50 state legislatures in the balances and found them wanting.

These 50 assemblies, says the Citizens Conference on State Legislatures, "are the heart of the governmental system of the United States." But they "stand high on the list of institutions that need reform."

These words after the Citizens Conference, armed with more than $175,000 in grants and donations—mostly from the Ford Foundation—completed a first-of-its-kind examination of just how effectively the state legislatures operate.

Not what they turn out, but their abilities to make decisions according to how they're organized, structured, ruled and staffed.

The results announced Feb. 3 are a far cry from the customary "parade of anecdotes and horror stories designed to play upon the public's natural distrust of anything governmental"—the kind of expose stuff one usually associates with literature on state governments.

Instead, the Citizens Conference evaluation is cool and factual, as exactly measured as a printer's plume.

Its intent it to see just where the 50 states' legislatures stand in five categories: Functional, A, B, C, D, E. Informative, A, B, C, D, E. Representative, A, B, C, D, E. From that you can get the average FAIR rating.

Illinois comes up with a pretty FAIR rating. Its operating machinery, judged across all five criteria make it the third most efficient legislature in the U.S.

California pulls down the best marks, followed by New York. The states trailing Illinois in the top 10 are Florida, Wisconsin, Iowa, Hawaii, Michigan, Nebraska and Minnesota.

Some Illinois might not do as well. Kentucky is 31st, Missouri 35th and Indiana 40th. Illinois ranked high in well above median in all five categories.

Its "independent" rating was second only to Florida. This means control over its own activities, freedom from the executive branch and power for overseeing state government.

Answers by Internal Revenue to Frequently Asked Tax Questions

(Internal Revenue Service)

Q I need more tax forms. Where can I get them?

A Any local IRS office has the forms you need.

Q Many banks and post offices also stock the most frequently used forms.

Q To avoid processing and refund delays, don't forget to take the name label off the cover of your 1960 tax packet and stick it on the Form 1040 you file.

Q Will any IRS office compute my tax for me?

A No, the tax computation is done at the IRS regional service center where the returns are processed.

Q If you wish to have the IRS compute your tax, complete all the appropriate lines on your return and then mail the IRS as you have in the past.

Q Be sure to attach all necessary schedules.

Q Only those who have $20,000 or less income consisting of salaries, wages, interest, pension or annuities and claim the standard deduction, qualify to have IRS compute their tax.

Q If you meet these requirements and are entitled to a refund, income credits, for the instructions at the top of Schedule R, attach it to your return, and the credit will be computed by IRS.

Q I'm taking care of my mother's tax returns this year. What special privilege is she entitled to by being over 65?

A The tax benefits for older Americans are explained in a free booklet by that name which is available at IRS offices.

Q Send a postcard to your District Director and ask for Publication 854.

Q Several types of taxpayers may qualify for the special head of household tax rates.

Q They include taxpayers who maintain a household for someone else, widows and widowers,

Illinois is fourth in accountability—the degree to which a legislature fulfills duties entrusted to it by voters. A big factor here is just how well the public is able to understand the actions and procedures of its elected representatives.

The Conference also decided that, compared to their colleagues elsewhere, Illinois legislators are well informed about what they're doing. The federal government's rank is 17th.

Illinois slipped to 13th in the "representativeness" of its legislature—how well it reflects the variety of its population. The Conference feels that single-member districts are vital in this category, which probably explains Illinois' position.

How well does the Illinois legislature function? Does it have the necessary staff, facilities, time and workable procedures to do a bang-up job of deliberation? The ranking here is 17th, and such states as Hawaii and New Mexico (3) are considered superior to Illinois.

For get high marks from the Conference for annual sessions—instead of the old biennial system—strong research staff support, improvements since 1960, responsiveness to the unusual degree of legislative openness and accessibility to the public.

But not so good are things like the size of the House (the Conference recommends it be cut from 177 to 100 members), minority representation on major committees, and the lack of office space for legislators.

The Citizens Conference says Illinois is so deeply imbedded in issues involving the federal government that it ought to open a fulltime office in Washington, D.C.

The Prairie State's D.C. staff could "be an effective communication, federal agencies and the state's congressional delegation."

Which suggests a new version of the old adage: "To the river flows gently, Illinois Illinois."

Add Potomac and Patuxent, Illinois, Illinois.

Improved Utilization of Illinois Public, Private Colleges Is Key Goal of Phase III

Some portions of the Master Plan for Higher Education in Illinois have been disconcerting because they seemed to impose arbitrary SIU-SW development restrictions which can be market, attaining comprehensive development of southwestern Illinois. Insistence on a junior college system related to the over-worked property tax base is another example of less-than-masterful state planning.

For one thing, it may be sound and constructive. For another, it may be a gripe with a serious Illinois higher education problem, the cost squeeze which has seen many private colleges close, curtail services or experience sharp enrollment declines.

Somehow within the system that Illinois has available to it, we ought to have at least one superlative program in every field. But no longer can we afford the luxury of each campus seeking a comprehensive status. No longer can all colleges and universities be all things to all men. Each will have to concentrate as centers of excellence in specific and limited areas, as a part of an integrated system, sharing with other colleges and universities, regardless of the governing structures.

Proposals include a planned enrollment program for the private sector, rather than continuing deterioration of the role of private colleges; direct financial grants to supplement scholarship programs at private colleges; sharing of facilities, program resources and personnel; formation of regional "cooperatives" to broaden educational-cultural-community activities and experiences for students and communities; development of statewide library and computer network; and "registration interchangeability" to effect maximum ease in transferability.

Parts of Phase III are likely to prove controversial. But there is sure to be wide support for the objective of the greatest possible educational-cultural opportunities for all of the 11,113,976 people of Illinois through most effective use of their more than 120 centers of higher learning.

Prompt Clearing of River Highway Site by Army Is Necessary for 1972 Road Progress

The decision by the Army to grant an easement for the Great River Road through the Army Depot property was extremely good news. Almost equally important is the government's willingness to handle the removal of utility lines, streets, sewers, railroad tracks and other obstacles from the area where the highway will be built.

Southward extension of the river highway to Venice, and a link with the proposed extension of 12th Street in Madison, are vital to efficient handling of both local traffic and through traffic, and could be a stimulus to industrial expansion through easier access to sites.

Congressman Melvin Price and Robert Krosch, chief engineer of Illinois Highway District Eight, have appropriately kept a close and helpful watch on the progress of the project.

The timetable now calls for the Army Corps of Engineers to carry out the eight-month task of clearing the highway site this year, and for the road extension to be a part of the state's 1972 work schedule.

Because there is no time for delay if such timing is to be met, both Congress and Mr. Price will remain in constant contact with the progress of Federal Aid Route 151.

Decimals in Britain; Meters in U. S. Next?

On June 6, 1944, "D Day," Allied forces left Great Britain and invaded the coast of Europe, leading to the ending of World War II the following year. Today, Feb. 15, 1971, the United Kingdom is the scene of another "D Day," the conversion from shillings to a decimal monetary system.

The pound, worth 2.4 American dollars, remains the basis of British money. But instead of consisting of 20 shillings, each worth 12 pence, the pound is now divided into 100 new pence, each worth 2.4 old pence.

While U. S. pennies and British pence are of less comparable value, they no longer are; but each country now has an almost identical decimal system for its coins, simplifying arithmetic and record keeping and eventually leading to less monetary confusion, although there was an abundance of confusion during today's changeover.

Now that nearly all of the world has achieved decimalization, and is fast on its way toward making the metric system the standard method of weight and measure, Great Britain is making plans to adopt the latter system in 1975. This poses the question of when and whether the United States will schedule its own metric "D Day."

Abandonment of inches, miles, ounces, pounds, pints and gallons is regarded as inevitable. It may be mighty difficult to forget about the "four-minute mile" in racing, but at least there will be an opportunity to whittle at girls with 105-70-105 dimensions—centimeters, that is.

The occurrence, while not unusual, is noteworthy because of the cooperation it makes regarding cooperation between diverse organizations and faiths.

Acquisition of Flags Is Praised

To the Editor: On behalf of the Amvets, I would like to express a sincere thank you to the Labor Council, Alderman Paul Schuler, Ed Reiss and Don Parent for their efforts in acquiring the 100 American flags to be flown on Memorial Day on Madison Avenue.

We are pleased to see the attitude of patriotism spread in America today. This renewed emphasis on patriotism and flying the American flag is occurring through the efforts of individual citizens who respect our country, its heritage, and what it stands for in this troubled world.

It is also being promoted by groups which have a strong faith and belief in our form of government. We commend all those who are working to restore that fierce pride in country so manifest in our founding fathers. We hope that thousands more will join in this movement for patriotism.

On national holidays we see more and more flags flying from public places than thoroughfares, in public places and at private homes.

It is a thrilling sight to drive through a city and see the main street lined with American flags, and we hope this growing flag-flying crusade will spread to involve every family and business in the area.

It is not "old fashioned" to show pride in our flag and to express feelings of patriotism. It is a symbol of a strong, courageous and brave people who have built, fought for and preserved the greatest nation on earth.

Masseys Purchase Additional Cows

R. W. Massey of Massey Brothers Dairy, Granite City, received word from his brother, H. C. Massey, who has been in Wisconsin for the past two weeks selecting pure-bred dairy cows. He has purchased a number of good cows and will bring them back to their farm at Jerseyville, where he operates a 200-acre dairy farm and ship the dairy products here for distribution.

Statewide Referral Service Is Operated by Illinois Bar Group

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations)

If you had a legal problem and didn't know a lawyer, where would you turn for help? The perfect solution would be to contact the Illinois State Bar Association's Lawyer Referral Service.

This office was established last June to help Illinois residents who can afford to pay a reasonable fee for legal services find a competent lawyer. Illinois is one of only a few states to operate this type of service on a statewide basis.

The ISBA recognized that there are a variety of reasons why some people are reluctant to contact a lawyer. Many are not personally acquainted with a lawyer. Others are not sure that a lawyer can be an integral part of their lives, like the family doctor, dentist or minister.

Some are afraid to approach a lawyer because they don't know how much he will charge. Others are not sure if their problem is a legal one or not, and many have never been to a lawyer yet had a chance to locate a lawyer in their community.

Whatever the reason for the hesitance, the ISBA's statewide Lawyer Referral Service was established to alleviate some of these common problems.

When people wait too long before they seek the advice of a lawyer, problems often become more complex and result in expensive litigation.

Many local bar associations operate their own referral services. The ISBA's statewide program is designed to serve those areas of the state in which no formalized service does not exist. It operates from ISBA headquarters in Springfield.

If you want the name of an attorney to assist you with a specific legal problem, you may call the toll-free number 800-333-8818 in Springfield.

The office is open 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. A receptionist will ask you the type of problem you have and will briefly explain the nature of your problem. This information is kept in the strictest confidence.

The receptionist then will furnish the name and telephone number of an attorney in your area who has a complete lawyer's office.

If there is a lawyer referral service already in operation through a local bar association, the receptionist will refer you to that number. You then set up your own appointment date and time.

The first-half hour session with an attorney will cost no more than $10 and you have no further obligation to retain the attorney for additional services unless you wish to do so. Some people find a solution to their problems during this first interview. If you decide to retain the lawyer for additional work, you should discuss his customary charges for future work.

ISBA sponsors stress that this statewide referral service is not a free legal advice bureau for persons who can't afford attorneys.

The service is designed to help individuals and families who require private legal assistance. The administrative costs of the program are paid by participating lawyers.

All those enrolled in the program are members in good standing of the Bar of Illinois. Their names are arranged alphabetically and are given out on a rotating basis.

If you would like more information on the Lawyer Referral Service, write for a free copy of the pamphlet, "Do You Have A Legal Problem?" Send a self-addressed, stamped business envelope to Illinois State Bar Association, Illinois Bar Center, Springfield, IL 62701.

HIGH SCHOOL PHYSICAL EDUCATION ANNEX now in use. It contains 21,000 square feet of floor space, with a main floor large enough for two regulation basketball courts. It also will contain a three-lane running track. Enrollment of GCHS has doubled since the main gymnasium building was built and in 1973 GCHS will add ninth grade students.

VOLLEYBALL GAME in the north end of the main room of the new physical education annex. Scott Miller, 15, a sophomore, is about to serve.

The boys were not in their normal PE attire due to a wrestling tournament; visiting teams were using the lockers.

INDOOR HOCKEY is being played in the southeast corner of the new GCHS gym at the same time as two basketball games, and three table tennis games, all in the main room. Pictured, left to right, are David Fraley, 15, a sophomore, Ocie Swann, 16, a junior, and Jack Small, 15, a sophomore.

CLASSROOM FOR ATHLETES on the second floor of the new GCHS physical education annex. The brick-concrete-steel building is of functional design with no frills, and is not intended for spectator events. Cost was less than $10.50 a square foot. By using an existing wall of the main gym, construction costs were saved.

Reorganize Storage Space

Cold or inclement weather, and a reduction in demanding activities, make the winter months an excellent time to reorganize storage space.

Good storage throughout the house contributes to the saving of time, energy and money. In addition, good storage facilitates caring for family possessions, improves the efficiency of performing housekeeping activities and gives the house an orderly appearance.

You can reduce storage problems by discarding unused items or possessions of no real value. Institute a systematic plan for cleaning and evaluating your possessions occupying storage space throughout the house.

Store household items at the point of first use. Stored items should be easy to see, easy to reach and easy to grasp.

Items used together should be stored together. Give storage priority to the most accessible places to items you use frequently. The area of easiest accessibility generally ranges between eye and hip level.

Infrequently used items can occupy less convenient places; for example, in the back of closets, in low drawers or on high shelves. Store seldom-used, seasonal items, such as Christmas decorations, ice skates or tennis rackets, in the attic, overhead in the garage or in the basement.

You can often make storage areas more efficient. Try using different types of closet rods; adding dividers, shelves, trays, or drawers; installing peg boards or adding racks and other closet accessories.

Tips on Oven Cleaning
Hate to clean that oven? So do most other homemakers. But the sooner you clean up oven spills and splatters, the easier the job will be. Reheat food splatters too many times and you'll find that removal becomes a problem.

How to clean your oven depends on its type, the cleaning solutions you prefer and how soiled it is.

A self-cleaning or continuous-cleaning oven does the job for you. Pyrolytic or self-cleaning ovens use intense heat during a cleaning period to remove soil. Catalytic or continuous-cleaning ovens remove light splatters through an oxidation process that requires a temperature of 350 degrees or higher. In other words, the oven cleans itself constantly as you use it. However, heavy spills can be too thick to allow the oxidation process to occur. To remove such soil, you have to wipe up the greatest portion of the spill, and then the continuous-cleaning oven can finish the job.

Other ovens have easy-clean features such as Teflon linings that slip out for washing. Manufacturers of the teflon coating suggest frequent washing to prevent burned-on stains. But avoid scouring because it damages the coating and is unnecessary. Soak the liners in warm, sudsy water to remove any burned-on materials.

Ammonia fumes will help loosen grease and crusty film in conventional ovens with porcelain enamel walls. Set a small dish of household ammonia in the cold oven a few hours before you're ready to clean. Or you can even leave the dish overnight. Close the oven door so the fumes will remain in the oven to do their work. Following this treatment, wash the inside of the oven with warm, soapy water, rinse and dry. Wash the racks separately so that you'll have plenty of elbow room for scrubbing.

You'll also find many commercial oven cleaners on the market. Follow the manufacturer's directions for best results.

GIVE WOOLENS GENTLE CARE

Treat your wooleens to gentle care to retain their beauty and get maximum wear.

Be sure you hang woolen garments immediately after wearing. Since wool fibers are elastic, light wrinkles will usually smooth out overnight.

You can quickly steam away the more firmly set wrinkles by hanging the garment in a bathroom while you shower. Be sure hangers are properly shaped to maintain shoulder lines. Hang pants by the cuffs and skirts by the waistband. An electric clothes brush aids in removing lint and surface soil before it becomes embedded in the fibers. Or use your vacuum cleaner with soft brush attachment. Treat spots as soon as possible.

When something is spilled on wooleens, blot the moisture immediately. Consult a stain chart for removing different types of stains. Often a cloth or sponge, which has been dipped in tepid sudsy water and wrung almost dry, will prevent damage. You should never rub wool fabrics.

When washing wooleens that are tagged machine-washable, follow the manufacturer's directions. Generally, a short wash cycle, gentle agitation with cool to lukewarm water and soap or detergent is advised. Wool naturally releases soil readily when laundered under proper washing conditions.

Many knitted woolen garments may be machine washed in the same way as woven fabrics. After washing, shape the garments on a flat surface to dry away from the sunlight.

When hand-washing wooleens, mix soap or detergent and cool to lukewarm water to form suds before putting the garment into the mixture. Squeeze the suds through the garment several times. Always support the fabric with your hands because wool fibers are weaker when wet. Use a gentle first wash for two minutes followed by a change to fresh suds for an additional one-minute squeeze washing. Rinse thoroughly and roll garment in a thick towel to absorb excess moisture before laying it flat to dry.

Many treated wool garments that are tagged machine washable may be dryer-dried. Always follow the manufacturer's instructions for best results.

When pressing wool, use steam and a press cloth. And instead of sliding the iron back and forth, move it up and down. This technique lifts and renews the texture.

NBC Runs Reading Skill Films Saturday Morning
Now your child can learn basic reading skills during Saturday morning cartoons rather than receive the usual bombardment of toy advertisements. On January 23, the National Broadcasting Company (NBC) began televising a series of one-minute films designed to help children learn basic reading skills. The films appear periodically in what would normally be one-minute commercial time periods during the 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday morning schedule.

Truck Strikes Auto

A truck driven by Walter L. Wise, 2717 Dale Ave., slid into the right rear of an auto driven by Harold E. Briggs Jr., 3210 Wishnie Drive, who was backing from an alley at 3:20 p.m. Sunday at 4100 Kirkpatrick Homes.

Passing on Outgrown Shoes Is False Economy

Shoes, unlike other articles of clothing, can not be altered to fit. Never let your children wear hand-me-down shoes. It's false economy to save outgrown shoes for younger family members. Shoes normally stretch and conform to the shape of the foot after several wearings. However, once molded to a foot, the shoe won't remold to another foot. And youngsters' soft, pliable feet will be forced to assume the shape of the shoes. This situation can cause problems in later years.

Air pollution, although seldom publicized, cost U. S. farmers $200 million yearly and the cost is going up each year.

"Falling Money" May Land in Library Fund

"Don't drop money around Southern Illinois University Friends of the Library president, J. Homer Kennedy," one of the board members warned. He has a "falling money" fund.

At a monthly meeting this winter, Mrs. Frank Godfrey of Edwardsville cautioned another feminine board member jokingly, "Better not let Homer sort you to your door if you aren't prepared to part with any money that might fall from your purse while you're fun-tuning for your door key. This happened to me and he was right there to pick up two one dollar bills."

It all began last September when Kennedy, also president of the Edwardsville National Bank and Trust Co., expressed a wish that during his term as president the S.I.U. Friends of the Library earn $5,000. As a starter, he suggested that members put any money they dropped between Feb. 1 and 31 into a "falling money fund."

More than $145 has been raised via this route. When the "collection plate" was passed at the last board meeting and money that had been counted, one member facetiously suggested that Mr. Kennedy might make $5,000 goal with "drop money."

On one occasion a $56 check was put into the fund by a member who earned it on jury duty, figuring it was money that had just "fallen into my pocket."

Another drop resulted from a flat tire. Margaret MacMillan, chairman of the Friends of the Library at the Cardinale Center, and her husband, Col. Alexander MacMillan, had a flat on the way to Edwardsville and two young men changed it for them.

Col. MacMillan offered them a $10 bill, which they politely refused. MacMillan then handed the bill to his wife. It flew out of her hand, landing on the ground nearby. You guessed it. It was soon dropped again—this time into Kennedy's falling money fund.

Dropping money could have been tragic for Mrs. Charles Kennedy, who said the City School District No. 9, at 20th and Adams Streets, Granite City, Illinois, up to 7:30 p.m. C.S.T., Monday, March 1, 1971, for the construction of the new CLASSROOMS ADDITION TO WILSON SCHOOL.

The bids will be opened promptly at 7:30 p.m., C.S.T., Monday, March 1, 1971. All contractors are invited to be present at the bid opening.

Plans and specifications will be available at the office of Gabriel and Dulgeroff, Inc., 3170 N. 10th St., Granite City, Illinois, at any time after 12 NOON, February 12, 1971. All plans, specifications and specifications will be issued to the General Contractors only on deposit of $50.00 for each set of plans and specifications. Deposits will be refunded upon return of plans and specifications to the Architect in good condition within ten (10) days after the opening of proposals.

Proposals will be received covering combined General Construction, Plumbing, Heating and Ventilating, and Electrical Work, under one contract. Prices quoted in base proposal and alternates shall be guaranteed for a period of thirty (30) days after date of proposal.

Proposals shall be submitted by mail or in person in duplicate on forms to be provided by the Architect. All proposals shall be sealed in envelopes, each enclosed "Proposal for Construction of Special Education Classrooms Addition to Wilson School, 2400 Wilson Avenue, Granite City, Illinois." Address outer envelope to the Community Unit School District No. 9 at the address noted above. Outer envelope shall be clearly identified as to the project and the word included under the proposal.

Proposals shall be accompanied by Bidder's Bond or certified check payable to the Community Unit School District No. 9 in the amount of ten percent (10%) of the bid. The bond will be returned to all except the three low bidders. Security for the three low bidders will be returned immediately after the signing of a contract and the supplying of the performance bond. The bond shall be returned to the Architect upon the completion of the project or the rejection of the bids.

The Owner reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive minor informalities in any bid or to make award in their best interest.

Should a bidder find any discrepancies or omissions in any of the documents or be in doubt as to their meaning, he should advise the Architect. The Architect will issue necessary clarifications to all prospective bidders by means of a written addendum. Drawings as may be appropriate.

Corn Blight May Be Avoided, Advisor Says

One of the big questions Madison county farmers face as they plan their 1971 cropping program is: What can I do to minimize the risks of another southern corn leaf blight attack?

The one good answer to an individual farmer is to plant his corn acreage with a hybrid resistant to blight. Warren W. Bundy, Madison County farm advisor, reports.

"But that is not a good answer for all farmers because there is not enough seed available," he adds.

"Many farmers will accept a blend of resistant and susceptible seed and will consider themselves fortunate to get enough of it to meet their needs," he said.

Farmers Reluctant
"Most farmers are reluctant to accept susceptible hybrids. Among the crop alternatives they consider are soybeans, grain sorghum, F-2 resistant single cross seed, small grains, and the farm set-aside program," Bundy stated.

The economics of those alternatives will be discussed in detail at the Madison County economy day program at 10 a.m. Thursday, in the Farm Bureau building in Edwardsville.

Ed Burns, University of Illinois plant pathologist, reports that infections by blight on corn in Florida are about the same level now as they were at this time a year ago. He has recent pictures of Florida corn which show severe blight damage now.

Norward movement of fungicide sprays will probably be restricted somewhat by limited planting of susceptible corn in southern states. Specialists in Alabama and Georgia recommend F-2 resistant seed in preference to susceptible varieties, according to Burns.

Warning System
Extension plant pathologists in many states have established the "Dixie Warning Service" to monitor plant diseases and to give a better report on their progress than we have had in past years.

Burns' research studies in Illinois surviving the fungus is still surviving in infected debris from the 1970 harvest. He said that extreme cold weather may lower survival to some degree. "Research also shows that the blight organism can remain alive—but dormant—in stored corn," Burns said.

The fungus is carried both inside and outside the seed. Ordinary seed treatments of corn with fungicides will not eradicate the fungus inside. John Tuile, Purdue University plant pathologist, reports that hot water treatment will kill the seed before the fungus.

Development of southern corn leaf blight in 1971 will be greatly affected by the weather. Under ideal conditions, blight sprouts can multiply rapidly and serious problems could develop earlier than in 1970, Bundy said.

Five Building Permits Show $16,900 Values

'Special Effects' by Nature in Cougar Film

In the still, rugged high country of Colorado there is nothing more real than a young cougar as he stalks his prey. And there is nothing funnier than the actions of a curious cat as he awaits a cold and hungry night, wondering how his objective got away. Reviewers have noted in discussing a film to be seen at the Washington Theater Feb. 17-22.

"Cougar Country" is the story of the first two years in the life of a mountain lion in the beautiful mountains of the West.

A huge cast of wild animals provides the action as "Whiskers," the cougar, grows up under the careful tutelage of his mother. Background is the natural splendor of the Rocky Mountains. Nature provides the special effects; American National Enterprises, Inc., Salt Lake City, provides the film and cameras.

Life for the young cougar among the peaks of the Colorado mountains is described as exciting and funny as he learns to catch fish from an icy stream and sometimes ends up getting wet.

"Whiskers" moves farther and farther from his mother's lair and meets more of his neighbors, including a somewhat offensive skunk, a mean marmot, a not-too-friendly American eagle, giant moose and elk, beaver, badgers, coyotes and all other animals with whom he shares his territory, "Cougar Country."

The outdoor film is intended to show nature as it really is — sometimes deadly serious, sometimes unbelievably comical, but always colorful and beautiful.

Parents of Daughter

Mrs. Dorothy Keel, 4536 Highway 162, and Kenneth Keel of Collinsville, are parents of a daughter, born Feb. 11 at a Wood River hospital. The baby weighed five pounds, 11 ounces. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Pete Belovich, 4536 Highway 162, and Mr. and Mrs. James Keel of Collinsville.

First Contracts of State's 1971 Road Program Awarded

First contracts on Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie's record 1971 road program were awarded Friday by the Illinois Division of Highways, Public Works Director William P. Cellini announced.

A number of the contracts involve work on Gov. Ogilvie's Immediate Action Program to widen and resurface older highways and bridges throughout the state, Cellini said.

The Immediate Action Program was launched late in 1969 and the work on more than 2,000 miles of pavement and 38 bridges has been completed. Contracts have been awarded for work on an additional 1,000 miles of paving and 30 more structures.

Under the governor's program, Cellini said, "we will improve all of the primary system mileage that was labeled deficient by the Illinois Highway Study Commission."

Following is a list of Madison County area contracts awarded Friday:

Project at Route Three

ST. CLAIR-MADISON-Jacking a storm sewer through the roadway embankment at two locations on U. S. Route 460 one mile west of Belleville and on Ill. Route Three one mile north of Granite City. G. H. Sternberg & Co., Granite City, $43,771.

Hog "Lift" Joined By Many Area Farmers

Several Madison County farmers have just finished helping the National Farmers Organization (NFO) in their national hog "lift," a successful attempt to raise the price of hogs for farmers.

The hog "lift" began in January when farmers in Iowa began moving hogs from farming areas into areas where the demand, and the price, were higher. The effect of the operation was to raise prices each day the "lift" was held.

Madison County members of the NFO joined the movement on Jan. 25 and for 10 days took about 1,000 hogs to St. Jacob, Ill., for shipment out of the area. The operation was suspended Feb. 2 after the price of pork rose $3 to $4 per hundred pounds. Hogs are now selling for $20-21 per hundred pound weight in this area, an NFO spokesman said.

Petition on Faculty Bargaining Election

Farm Materials Show Set for March 23-25

Plans are well advanced and many exhibitors already have reserved space for the 10th annual Southern Illinois Farm Materials Handling Show March 23-25 at Nashville, according to J. J. Paterson, planning committee coordinator and agricultural engineer at Southern Illinois University in Carbondale.

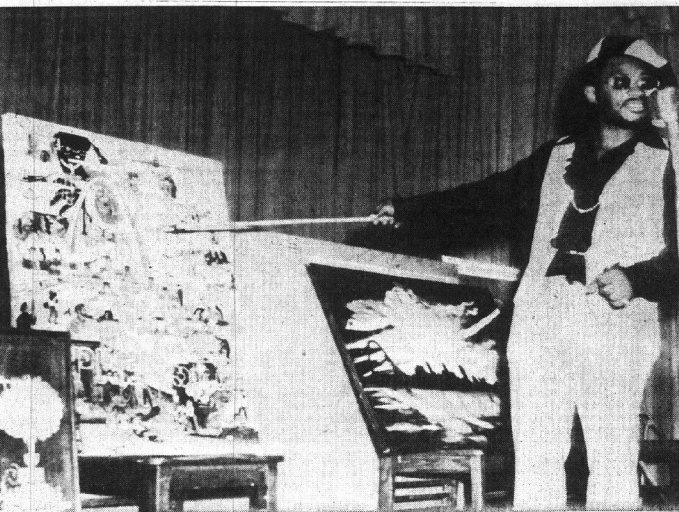

Special features of the Show will be a display of farmstead applications of electric heating and lighting, sponsored by Illinois electric power suppliers; a popular Home Show on using electric appliances in the farm home; and an extension service exhibit sponsored by area county extension advisers in agriculture, home economics and youth work.

These special activities will supplement the main part of the show which features dealer and manufacturers' exhibits of the latest equipment and setups for mechanizing and automating many of the high-labor enterprises on the farm, Paterson says. They will include displays and demonstrations of a variety of feed mixing, grinding and distribution or handling machinery; livestock feeding and watering equipment; silos and related equipment; grain handling, drying and storing setups, and many other kinds of labor-saving machinery and handling equipment for speedy and efficient operations on the farm.

Three large permanent buildings at the Washington County Fairgrounds near the south limits of Nashville provide all-weather housing for many of the exhibits as well as the home show and other special features. Larger equipment will be displayed or demonstrated on adjacent outside spaces. A rock-surfaced parking area has been added this year. Ivan Holter, Fairfield, is general chairman of the show.

Bank Lot Accident

While backing out of the First National Bank lot, an auto driven by Harold D. Allen, 1714 Poplar St., struck the left rear of the parked car of Robert E. King, 14 Riviera Drive, and left the scene. He contacted the police station about a half hour later and was charged with failure to give information after striking an unattended vehicle.

"THE SYSTEM", an original painting is explained by the artist Morris Shackelford of St. Louis to an assembly audience at Dunbar school in Madison. The assembly was held Thursday afternoon in conjunction with observance of Negro History Week. The painting is both symbolic and educational depicting the conditions of the world today in "reality and truth," according to Shackelford.

Larry Wilson Speaker At 6C Steel Dinner

Wilson has been a perennial all-pro choice for 11 years and has been named to the "Pro Bowl" the last five seasons. He has twice been named the team's most valuable player, in 1966 and 1968.

Also on the program will be St. Louis Sportscaster Ron Jacober, and Nicholas P. Veeder, chairman of the board of Granite City Steel Co.

There will be a social hour starting at 5:15 p.m. and a buffet style dinner will be held at 5:45 p.m. The program is scheduled to begin at 6:45 p.m. All salaried employees of the company are invited. Reservations should be turned in to Larry Hoffman as soon as possible.

'Cinco de Mayo' Fiesta Set May 8 at Venice

The Mexican Honorary Commission of Granite City will hold its "Cinco de Mayo 'Fiesta'" on May 8 at the Venice-Madison American Legion Home, 740 Broadway, Venice. Steve Ortiz, commission president, announced.

Plans for the fiesta were discussed at a meeting of the Commission last week in the Jaycee Hall on Poplar Street, attended by more than 50 members. Mrs. Antonia Lopez was appointed to direct the public dance and variety show and Craig Myers was named chairman of a membership drive and party to be given at the Jaycee Hall on April 10.

Youths were invited to join Boy Scout Troop 95, which meets at the Granite City Army Depot, and a new activity program now being offered by the troop were discussed by Jesse Escovedo.

Mexican dishes were served during a social hour by the February hostess, Mrs. Rose White. Mrs. Lennie Simpson was awarded the monthly prize.

Hospitalized After Crash

William Mason, 49, of East St. Louis, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 4 a.m. Friday with fractured ribs and hematoma to his forehead and left forearm suffered in an auto accident in St. Louis Thursday night.

State Files Suit Against Group Soliciting Funds

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott has filed a suit against the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern Gospel Choir, charging that the fund-raisers have turned over only 20 percent of the money they collected to the American Legion.

Money collected for the Fund was to be paid to the Legion's Needy Vietnam Veterans Children Aid Program.

Scott's suit, filed in Cook County Circuit Court, charged that $15,000 was collected for the fund, but only $2,700 was paid to the Legion's children's aid program.

Attorney General Scott asked the court to order the defendants to pay the Legion an additional $5,000 to bring the amount to at least 50 percent of the gross amount contributed to the Fund.

Other Defendants

Defendants, in addition to Zipper, Fund secretary, treasurer and director, are: William J. Sullivan, Fund president and director; Ina Linda Zipper, Fund director; and the Boulevard Employment Service, Inc., and Western Surety Co.

Scott said the Fund solicited funds on May 25, 1970, and on June 8 through June 12, 1970 "by and through professional solicitors employed by defendants William J. Sullivan, Paul Zipper, and Ina Linda Zipper."

This solicitation was conducted through Boulevard Employment Services, Inc., of which Paul Zipper was vice-president. Zipper recruited high school and college age students who solicited funds door to door in residential and suburban areas. They were paid $1.71 an hour, or $60 per week. Approximately 75 percent of the funds collected were to be used for transportation.

Boulevard Employment Service, Inc., was to be paid 75 cents per hour for each student hired, or $300 per solicitor if employment continued for at least one month, Scott explained.

On June 15, 1970, Fund directors voted to end solicitations and make final distribution of all funds collected, less expenses.

On Dec. 23, 1970, Sullivan, Fund president and president of Boulevard Employment Service, Inc., filed a report with the Illinois Attorney General's office purporting to show contributions, expenses, and a receipt for the $2,700 for money turned over to the American Legion.

Scott said the report indicated gross contributions of $12,172, when in fact said contributions were approximately $15,000.

"The Attorney General's suit charges that defendants acted falsely and fraudulently, in failing to distribute an equitable share of the funds collected to needy children of United States Servicemen killed in Vietnam."

Scott asked for a full accounting of all money collected for the Fund, and for the court to order Zipper and the Western Surety Co. which has bonded him for $5,000 to pay the additional $5,000 to the American Legion.

Attorney General Scott said his office intends "to strike hard at people who take advantage of public sympathy for a worthy cause, but then keep most of the money for themselves."

Assistant Attorney General

Dunbar Pupils, Faculty Mark Negro History Week

The faculty, students, alumni, parents and visitors of Dunbar School commemorated Negro History Week last week with a capacity audience at an assembly program in the school auditorium, and a series of other events.

The guest speaker at the assembly session was attorney Earle McCaskill, a native of Madison and a graduate of Dunbar elementary school and Madison High School. He now is serving as a Public Defender in St. Clair County.

Attorney McCaskill threw new light on the many contributions made by Negroes to America. Some of the names mentioned were Crispus Attucks, first American to give his life in the War for Independence; Phyllis Wheatley, born in slavery to become one of the nation's finest poets; Frederick Douglass, fiery orator, writer, abolitionist, and statesman; and Paul Lawrence Dunbar a worthy poet after whom the school was named.

He told of other significant contributions to America made by Negroes in exploration of uncharted land, in the arts, in military valor, in sports, in business, in industry, in education, and other areas of endeavor.

In his synopsis he reminded the student body how necessary it is to remain in school and get an education.

The Southern Illinois University-Southwestern Gospel Choir sang. The Choir included a number of former students from Dunbar.

An exhibit of Negro portraits and art was displayed by Morris Shackelford, a young artist in residence of the Mid City Center Community Congress, St. Louis. Mr. Shackelford said, "Art in its broad sense is the expression of beauty in form, speech, it embraces not only drawing, painting, sculpture and architecture, but poetry, music, dance and dramatics."

The artist explained his reasons for painting the various pictures. In the painting of the "System," Shackelford spoke of the "Oppressed and the Oppressor" and how the disadvantaged has been oppressed, and as a result turns to drugs, drinking and stealing.

The artist told the pupils that there is hope if one continues his education and that neither drugs nor drinking removes problems with which he or she will be confronted. He said that young people should complete college and put something back in the community such as new buildings and new businesses, and "make the community a better place to live."

'BARBS' AND 'GOOF BALLS'
THEY 'PUT YOU DOWN'

The first Barbiturate was introduced in 1903. It was not until 1940 that their addictive qualities became a cause for concern. The dosage of Barbiturates must be controlled by a physician to benefit.

They are prescribed for high blood pressure, epilepsy, insomnia, mental illness and to relax patients.

Serious problems occur when they are illegally obtained. Without physician supervision, larger dosage causes confusion, slurred speech and staggering. The ability to think, to concentrate and to work is lessened. Users can become irritable, angry and fighting mad. Overdoses can cause death.

The need of these Public Service Messages will discuss the Hallucinogenic Drugs that credulous users believe can improve their personality.
